Expect Showdown On School Aid Bill

DEMONSTRATIONS can be too much as indicated in the above picture. A Tufts University coed is carried away by friends after she fainted in the midst of a protest demonstration on the campus Friday. Upwards of 200 students held a sit-in in the administration building to dramatize demands for more black workers on a dormitory construction project. Missing Boy Sought; Parents Won't Talk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Where is 8-year-old Jeffrey Lansdown?

"He was left in a big house with lots of stairs," says his 5-year-old sister Jody.

Neighbors in suburban Bell Gardens said they heard he was killed in a traffic accident.

But none of them could say when or where Jeffrey was last seen.

His mother, Betty Fouquet, 26, and her husband, Ronald Fouquet, 31, refused Friday to answer any questions at a Juvenile Court hearing on Jeffrey's whereabouts.

They said their testimony might incriminate them.

Both have been in jail at Bakersfield, 100 miles north, since a few days after Jody was found clinging to a freeway fence.

Authorities said the Fouquets left her there Oct. 25, cold and wet, to wait for a policeman. They said she had been told to say her name was Smith.

The Fouquets, who have two children of their own and expect another, are charged with child abuse and abandonment.

Sheriff's deputies dug up the Fouquet's Bell Gardens backyard where they found bones. Coroner's investigators say they haven't determined whether they are human or animal bones.

When Jody and Jeffrey's father, Billy Joe Lansdown, 34, of Camas Valley, Ore., appeared last week to claim Jody, authorities first heard about Jeffrey.

Lansdown said he and Mrs. Fouquet had four children during their 1960-64 marriage. He already had taken custody of 4-year-old Dina, and 7-year-old Timothy was located at the Fouquet home.

Even Santa Claus Needs License To Parade In City

DETROIT (AP)—Santa Claus will need a state parade permit to make his annual Thanksgiving Day entry to Detroit this year.

Santa makes his traditional entry in a sleigh at the end of the big J.L. Hudson Co. parade down Woodward Avenue. In the past, only a city permit was required for the parade but a new state law makes a state permit mandatory for any parade on state trunk highways, such as Woodward, which is U.S. 10.

Officials have little doubt the permit will be granted.

'Bonus' Funds For Poor Units Recommended

LANSING (AP) — A billion-dollar school aid bill, setting a $25 million parochial budget and "bonus payments" for poor school districts, has been recommended for passage in the Michigan Senate.

The bill—one of the major parts of Gov. William Milliken's education package—was reported from the Senate Appropriations Committee Friday along with the announcement that the committee would seek a state Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of aid to non-public schools.

$40 Million Cut

Chairman Charles O. Zoller, R-Benton Harbor, said the bill cuts some $40 million from the governor's $1.04 billion proposal, changes his proposed formula for fund distribution and includes a new method of increasing dollars for educationally deprived areas.

Debate on the bill, however, was not expected immediately.

Zoller said Senate leaders had agreed not to take up the spending bill, which boosts the current school aid appropriation by some $149 million, until revenue measures were acted on.

On Senate Calendar

Four such measures — two from Milliken's education reform package and two sponsored by Democrats—currently are on the Senate calendar. Others could be reported from the taxation committee next week.

Under pressure from the executive office, the Senate planned to meet Monday night, work through the Tuesday Veterans' Day holiday, and quit Thursday for an expected long weekend.

Debate on the tax bills was scheduled to begin Monday night.

Zoller said the parochial provision in the bill specifies that schools do not have to participate in the state aid program if they do not want to.

The section also says that teachers whose salaries are paid in part with state funds will not come under state tenure laws.

Parochial Verdict Asked

Written into the provision is a legislative intent to ask for the high court's verdict on parochial constitutionality. Zoller said the opinion would be requested after the provision is enacted, but before parochial aid is implemented.

The bonus payment system will be based on the current state aid formula with dividend checks going to districts with high operating millage rates and low valuations.

$30,000 Valuation Goal

The bill sets a $30,000 valuation goal, Zoller said, and asks a minimum of 12 local operating mills. For every mill voted above 12, up to and including 15, the state will allocate $1 per mill per child, multiplied by the difference between $30,000 and the local district's state equalized valuation (SEV).

For example, if a district levying 15 mills had a SEV of $5,000, there would be credit for 3 mills (over 12) and a difference of $25. Multiplying $1 times 3 times $25, the district would receive a bonus of $75 per child.

"This is a real incentive for those districts now levying av-

Wallace Asks Treason 'Rap' For Militants

SAIGON (AP) — George Wallace, third-party presidential candidate last year, said today that certain Vietnam war protesters should be put in jail for treason.

The former Alabama governor, arriving here on a fact-finding trip, also indicated broad support for President Nixon's Vietnam policy as spelled out in the President's Nov. 3 speech.

Asked what he thought about the Oct. 15 moratorium against the Vietnam war, Wallace said it was conducted by a group of people "who were conscientious and sincere," although he said he questions their judgment.

"I think it encourages Hanoi," he added. "On the other hand, those few who fly the Communist flag and call for Communist victory are not engaged in an academic freedom but are engaged in an activity that I consider treasonable. . . . I think the Justice Department ought to put a stop to those who raise money, blood and clothes for the North Vietnamese."

"I am not talking about humanitarian groups like the Red Cross, but I'm talking about those who say 'I want the Communists to win and defeat the American servicemen,' which is saying I want them killed. I object to that sort of conduct in our country by those few, but I am happy to say (they) represent a very few people."

Asked how the Justice Department could intervene, Wallace said, "I think a person who makes a speech in a college calling for Communist victory, and it is printed in Hanoi, is giving aid and comfort to the enemy of our country and how better can you do that? I think they ought to proceed against him and indict him and he ought to be put in jail for treason."

Wallace said he hopes Nixon's plan to end the war can be implemented "to the extent this war is honorably concluded in a reasonable period of time."

2 Men Arrested For Threatening Nixon

Vietnam War Seen As Link To Miami Plan

MIAMI (AP) — Two men have been arrested in connection with threats on the life of President Nixon. Both threats were linked to the Vietnam war.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Mike Osman said George W. Baker, 51, of Miami, was arrested on a charge of assaulting a federal officer. Osman said John Anthony Baker, 24, of Breezewood, Pa., was charged with threatening the life of the President. Osman said the two were not related.

Pair Arrested, Jailed

Both men, arrested here Thursday shortly before the President arrived for a weekend at his Key Biscayne retreat, were ordered held on $200,000 bond and both remained in jail.

Osman said the Miami man wrote to Nixon in May and said if his son in Vietnam was killed he would kill every federal official he could find, from the President down to members of the local draft board.

Invited Into Home

"Because the President was coming to Florida the Secret Service went to his house Thursday," Osman said, "and he invited them inside."

Osman said Baker took a high-powered rifle with a telescopic sight from behind his chair, "loaded it and pointed it at them," saying he was "ready to discuss whatever they had to discuss with him."

Wanted Since Act. 20

A Secret Service official in Washington, D.C., Jack Warner, said John Baker had been wanted since Oct. 20 when a warrant charging he had threatened the President was issued in Pittsburgh. John Baker waived extradition to Pennsylvania Thursday.

The charge alleges that John Baker told a law enforcement officer in Pittsburgh Oct. 2: "Remember my name because I will assassinate the President if the troops aren't out of Vietnam by 1970."

Fear Augenstein In Plane Crash

Nixon, Congress Clash Foreseen Over Water Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and President Nixon appear headed toward a clash over spending for water projects, and the extent of their disagreement will be disclosed early next week.

The President, as part of his anti-inflation program, has called for a cutback or slowdown in such projects while Congress obviously is in a somewhat more generous mood.

The House already has added some $60 million to Nixon's proposals for the flood control, irrigation, navigation and other water projects of the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau.

Now the Senate appears ready to add more funds in a bill to be unveiled Monday.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., of the Senate public works appropriations subcommittee, said his bill will carry some additions, particularly in the area of hurricane protection projects.

The plane piloted by Dr. Leroy Augenstein, a Michigan State University professor, was due at the Charlotte airport Friday night. Augenstein contacted the Jackson airport at 12:24 a.m. today and asked for a report of weather conditions in the Lansing vicinity, State Police said.

Augenstein has not been heard from since he was advised the weather was bad, police said.

Officials, Marchers 1,000 Feet Apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department officials and war protest leaders were about 1,000 feet from agreement today on the proposed route of the Nov. 15 mass march through Washington.

White House security officials adamantly insist such a large group—estimates range from 100,000 to 500,000—should not be permitted closer than that to the executive mansion.

The Justice Department, after consultation with the White House, agreed Friday to let the mass march proceed next Saturday as long as the route is Constitution Avenue and the demonstrators don't make a side trip to the presidential residence.

But the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam rejected the government proposal, again saying that any plan must allow marchers to pass in front of the White House.

The New Mobilization said demonstrators feel they must make a symbolic gesture of protest to the policy-making executive branch of government.

The war protest leaders remained steadfast in demanding a swing by the White House and they said Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst knew their position before he offered the latest government proposal.

Kleindienst said Friday the department believes "that the demonstrators have a clear right to meet in Washington and to petition the government for a redress of their grievances."

He said his plan, under which the march would proceed down Constitution to 17th Street and then to the Washington Monument area, would satisfy both goals.

The route was proposed by Kleindienst after day-long meetings with march leaders and a separate session with representatives of various capital security forces, including police, the Secret Service and the Army.

Kleindienst said the government is willing to continue negotiations on other route alternatives. Both sides have reached agreement on all other aspects of the three-day demonstration.

Probe Asked In Pentagon Firing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has backed away hurriedly from its decision to hire a private cost expert whose firm is linked to the maker of the controversial and costly C5A cargo plane.

But while the Air Force was moving to cut off criticism about the hiring of John J. Dymment, more trouble was brewing for the Pentagon because of the firing of cost expert A. E. Fitzgerald.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chief congressional opponent of the C5A, said he will open hearings soon to learn why the Pentagon fired Fitzgerald, the man who revealed the C5A would cost at least $2 billion more than official Air Force estimates.

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — A 16-year-old youth masqueraded as a Marine private for two weeks, answering roll call, being paid, doing jobs and being punished as Pvt. Robert A. Jenkins, Marine Corps official said.

Marines said Friday that Ledell Parker of Anderson, Ind., surrendered to Los Angeles area police Oct. 23 and told them he was Pvt. Jenkins, absent without authorization from the Marine Corps. Pvt. Jenkins, also from Indiana, was still AWOL.

Shanghaied?

Parker claims he was "shanghaied" by the Marines after being arrested by police because they found him with inadequate identification and carrying a Marine's sea bag. Parker said he maintained his proper identity throughout.

But the Marines said Parker, who didn't have an identification card, was able to rattle off Jenkins' seven-digit service number and sign Jenkins' name to pay vouchers.

Minor Punishment

Parker was given office hours, a minor punishment, on Oct. 27 for being AWOL and a $20 fine was suspended. The Marines said the youth signed Jenkins' name to the unit punishment book.

The next day he was charged with failing to obey an order and was sent to correctional custody Oct. 30 by his commanding officer.

An official there said the youth "was acting up" and was transferred to the base brig Oct. 31. Early the next day he was treated by a corpsman for a nosebleed and later was admitted to the hospital with a slight fever.

Dental Charts Compared

Dental charts were compared Tuesday and it was found that the man was not Jenkins, Parker gave investigators information about himself which was verified by police in Anderson.

"The individual was turned back to the hospital and Parker was told the afternoon of Nov. 5 that he was a civilian; however, they would continue to treat him if he agreed," a hospital spokesman said.

Parker Disappear

But Wednesday, Marines said,

Parker disappeared from the hospital and he was apprehended by military police for allegedly impersonating a Marine sergeant in front of the women's Marine barracks.

"He was very belligerent and attempted to assault the apprehending military police," the spokesman said.

The youth was released to San Diego juvenile authorities late Wednesday. Juvenile hall officials refused to give information and said the youth could not be questioned.

Marine officials said they did not know whether Parker and the real Jenkins were acquainted.

Officials refused to release Jenkins hometown, age or other identification.

weather he should have notified authorities, said State Police in Lansing.

Augenstein, who keeps his twin-engine Apache at the Charlotte facility, left Charlotte at 6 p.m. Friday for Richmond, Ind., and was due to return the same night.

Fog and rain have prevented the launching of an air search today, said State Police, who hope for clearer skies by early afternoon.

A ground search was launched today in the Fort Wayne, Ind., area in the belief that Augenstein may have turned back because of the weather. The man in the tower at the Jackson airport said it was his feeling that Augenstein may have turned back.

Augenstein was elected to the State Board of Education in 1966. His term expires Jan. 1, 1975. He was elected on the Republican ticket and maintains a residence at Holt.

$100 A Plate Dinner:Gafner Honored By Many Friends

The many friends of John Gafner, including a number of men in high places in government, contributed to some of the nicest gifts a retiring officeholder could have—good wishes, a $6,000 automobile, and about $3,000 to buy gasoline to run the Lincoln Continental.

The recent retirement party for Gafner, a native of Escanaba, was held in Lansing where Gafner has served the State of Michigan for the past 42 years. He has been state property manager since 1948 and will retire from his $24,742 post on Dec. 20.

The Gafner family is a big one, and John's sisters and brothers are William, August and Rudolph of Escanaba; Harry of California; and four sisters, Mrs. E. W. Alderson (Catherine) and Mrs. Nelson (Charlotte) Bowden of Escanaba; Mrs. Hans (Rose) Gudwiler of Bark River Rte. 1 and Gafner cost $100 a plate and at least two distinguished contributors among the 127 sent money with regrets they were unable to attend. U. S. Senator Phil Hart and former Gov. John B. Swainson said they were sorry they couldn't make it.

Among the dignitaries who gathered to honor Gafner were ex-Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, Chief State Appeals Judge T. John Lesinski, Michigan State University executive Vice President Jack Breslin, MSU athletic director Biggie Munn and others.

The event received coverage from the Grand Rapids Press, whose columnist William Kulesa wrote:

"Gafner is a Democrat, always has been. He was so popular in the mid-1940's his party wanted him to run for governor, later for secretary of state. He felt he was too important to the party in the job he was doing. Even when the statehouse was loaded with Republicans, Gafner remained a Democratic oasis surrounded by the GOP."

Friends Remember

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, who served as toastmaster at the party for Gafner, said:

"This affair was arranged by Johnny's friends entirely on the basis of long-time personal ties. Most of the people didn't have fancy titles when they came to know him."

Changes in the state constitution whittled away at Gafner's responsibilities. As Kulesa of the Grand Rapids Press described it:

"His friends didn't forget, though. This week they put on a farewell-to-Gafner bash that also helped remind them there never will be another John Gafner in state government. The system today won't permit it."

Republicans Eye Professional Fund Raiser

DETROIT (AP)—Republican party officials are considering hiring a professional fund-raising firm to pull the Michigan GOP out of a $150,000 deficit.

State Chairman William McLaughlin and the GOP's Michigan finance chairman, Charles Kirsch, said Friday night that exploratory talks have been held with professional fund-raisers.

McLaughlin said officials were seeking to determine "the most modern techniques of raising money" but no decisions had been made on what methods will be applied in Michigan.

"One of the possibilities has to be professional fund-raising," Kirsch said, "but no one firm has been singled out and that decision has not been made."

WJR, a Detroit radio station, said prime attention was being given to Ralph Goettler Associates, a Columbus, Ohio, firm which handles the task of filling Ohio Republican coffers.

The station also said hiring of a professional fundraiser would mean closing the United Republican Fund of southeast Michigan.

McLaughlin described as "strictly speculation" whether the United Republican Fund might be closed and noted that he was one of the founders of this group.

He said officials talked with Ralph Goettler "about two weeks ago to ask, 'how do you work, what would you do if you came to Michigan?'"

McLaughlin said several fund-raising groups "would be considered if the decision were made to go to a professional Kirsch, who lives in Sturgis, denied consideration was being given to any moves to close the United Republican Fund, a group which primarily gathers money in the Detroit metropolitan area.

"We've considered almost the opposite, in fact," Kirsch said. "We've considered trying to unite the fund for the whole state."

Both Kirsch and McLaughlin confirmed that officials were unhappy about the small amounts of money turned over to the state party by the United Republican Fund. Kirsch said the "largest amount of the problem (in raising state party funds) is the failure of Southeast Michigan" to supply contributions.

1,000th School Built By American Children

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the past five years, American children have been working on a foreign aid program of their own—helping build schools in developing nations.

Today the program reached a landmark with announcement that the 1,000th school to be constructed under the School Partnership Program will be in Matrincha, Brazil. The funds were raised by Memorial High School in St. Mary's, Ohio, a city of 7,800 in the western part of the state.

Under the unique program, sponsored by the Peace Corps, more than 700 schools—most with only one room—have been built already in 44 countries with funds raised by 1,300 U.S. schools in 47 states.

The school partnership program began in 1963 when Gene Bradley, then editor of General Electric's public affairs magazine, Forum, was elected president of the Rosendale Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association in Niskayuna, N.Y.

The school was so well equipped that Bradley was warned by his predecessor his biggest problem would be finding useful things to do for it.

Several weeks later, on a business trip to Washington, Bradley asked a friend who had headed a U.S. foreign-aid mission in the Near East what he would do with a thousand dollars.

The friend replied he would build a school.

Bradley returned home, discussed the idea with his PTA board and was given solid backing.

Back in Washington, he sought advice and learned from Sargent Shriver, then head of the Peace Corps, that the idea was suited for the volunteer agency's self-help program.

Selected as the site for the first school was Casablanca, Colombia, a rural village with 80 school-age children and no school.

The children at Rosendale raised $800 at a fair and $350 on other projects which not only bought the materials required to build Casablanca's La Escuela Rosendale but also permitted the adoption of another Colombian village.

The Peace Corps encourages the schools in the two countries to exchange ideas and materials so that the youngsters get to know each other better.

In one project during the summer of 1968, students from Somerville, N.J., went to Peru to help with the building of the school.

The Peace Corps also tries to get host country citizens to visit the U.S. schools that have raised money for communities in their own nation.

SOA Requests News Media For Meeting

The Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air announced today that it welcomed an opportunity to discuss the proposed clean air ordinance with the Delta County Board of Supervisors and their legal council. The Committee refused, however, to become part of a secret meeting which has been proposed by the County Board.

The meeting in question is to take place next Wednesday night at the Delta County Building. It was called to discuss the legal aspects of the proposed clean air ordinance prior to the public hearing on the ordinance set for Nov. 18.

In its letter to the Committee, the County Board said, "This is not a public meeting. It will be limited in attendance to Board members and their legal counsel, a representative of the 'Citizens to Save Our Air' Committee, a representative of Mead Corporation, and a representative of Harnischfeg Corporation." The letter went on to ask the "Save Our Air" group to designate who would be its representative.

John Walbridge, spokesman for the committee, told the Daily Press this morning that the "Save Our Air" group will not meet with the Board without the news media in attendance. "Hundreds of persons are counting on us to carry this ordinance through, and a secret meeting wouldn't be fair to them," Walbridge said.

"We realize that discussions of the legal aspects of the ordinance should be discussed by a small group, but citizens should have the right to hear what is discussed between elected representatives and a citizens group requesting an ordinance," he said.

"Our activities on behalf of the ordinance have all been open to the public and the news media and we feel a subject so important to the community should be open to citizens through representation of the news media," Walbridge added.

In his letter of reply Walbridge wrote: "We appreciate your invitation to attend the private meeting and we welcome the opportunity to exchange views on a most crucial issue to the citizens of Delta County, the proposed air pollution ordinance."

"However, we respectfully request that this meeting not exclude the news media of the community."

"We also respectfully request that this meeting be between the Delta County Board of Supervisors, the elected representatives of the people, and its legal counsel, and an equal number of the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air and their legal counsel."

The Committee also said in the letter that it felt the County Board was not being fair to area industry when it invited only certain firms to be represented at the meeting without allowing all industries that the ordinance may affect to be in attendance.

"Unless we hear otherwise, we will go to the meeting assuming that our terms will be met," Walbridge said.

Tickets Ready For Musical

Tickets for the annual Escanaba Area High School musical, to be presented on Dec. 1, 2, 4, and 6, will go on sale Monday.

All seats are reserved for the four-night run of the production, Irving Berlin's "Annie Get Your Gun."

Reservations may be made by calling ST 6-1054 or ST 6-7634. Escanaba Area High School choir members also will be soliciting patrons.

Conrad Beck and Peter Adami, co-directors for the musical, said that about 75 to 100 students are involved in the production, including the cast, crew, and orchestra, and with all indications from the rehearsals thus far, the show will be a rollicking success.

"Annie Get Your Gun" is the story from a portion of the life of a famous American, Annie Oakley. Her rise to fame as a trick-shot artist with the famous Buffalo Bill Wild West Shows, and eventual world tours with this group, is the basis for the musical.

Many of the musical numbers are well known popular tunes from the 40's. Among them are: "They Say That Falling in Love is Wonderful," "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun," "The Girl That I Marry," and probably the most famous of all production numbers, "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Patrons are urged to get tickets early as previous musicals have sold out in a few days.

Two Injured In Traffic Mishaps

The injury of two persons, neither seriously, in traffic mishaps in Escanaba is reported by city police.

Clarence E. Larson, 59, Wells, was hurt when his car and a car driven by Francis E. Laundre, 19, of Escanaba Rte. 1, collided at Washington Ave. and Highway US 2-41. Laundre was ticketed for failing to stop in the assured clear distance. The accident occurred at 5:10 p.m. Thursday.

Lengthy Birthday Party Slated For Noel Coward

LONDON (AP) — Noel Coward, blithe spirit of the British theater, will be 70 years old next month and virtually everybody in the arts is getting ready for a week-long birthday celebration.

Coward spends most of his time in Jamaica or Switzerland these days to escape taxes, but he will be here for the festivities.

"It's holy week," he said piously.

The jam-packed week of nothing but Noel Coward—his birthday is Dec. 16—is impressive. British television is reviving some of the maestro's great productions—"Bitter Sweet," "Blithe Spirit," "Hay Fever," "The National Theatre is reviving the film Coward likes best of all his 60 years' output as actor, composer, director and producer. That is the wartime classic "In Which We Serve."

A battalion of celebrities will converge on the Savoy to honor Coward at a charity ball, proceeds of which will go to actors' charities.

Coward has turned out a major production for each of the 60 years he has been in the theater.

He's had his flops but mostly his hand cranked out hits.

As for honors, Coward turned down knighthood 20 years ago. He recalled: "I was told that the king (George VI) would like to honor me and I replied that while I would of course do anything he wished I would rather he didn't offer me a knighthood."

Half serious, half in jest, Coward said he thought plain Noel Coward on the theater marquee was better billing than Sir Noel.

Once again the rumor is spreading that the queen's New Year's list just might include Coward's knighthood. Neither the palace nor the prime minister's office, which makes up the list of honors, is likely to comment.

The Noel Coward week was triggered by a biography of Coward, "A Talent to Amuse," by Sheridan Morley, son of actor Robert Morley and grandson of Gladys Cooper.

Coward finds it hard to believe he is approaching 70. Physically he seems sound as a rum. Mentally he is sharp as ever.

At repartee he's left a trail of losers.

None bit the dust harder than the late Hannen Swaffer, a Fleet Street journalistic giant who called on Coward in his dressing room. Swaffer said, "I have always maintained that you act much better than you write."

Said Coward: "How odd, I'm always saying the same about you."

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to James B. Wells, 725 S. 16th St., speeding; James W. Menard, 817 N. 18th St., no operator's license, registration or proof of insurance; Raymond G. Brault, 114 S. 16th St., reckless driving; and to Calvin D. Marcoe, 1416 N. 16th St., speeding.

The recovery of stolen property from the House of Bargains in Escanaba, including four rifles, radio, tape player and other items is reported by city police following an investigation. The business place was broken into the night of Oct. 31 by a Bark River Rte. 1 boy, 16, who has been transferred to Delta County juvenile court. The father of the boy informed the sheriff's office when he observed his son with a rifle.

'Outreach' Art Show To Open

"I paint out of urgency, which makes the way I paint an organic development rather than a calculated one."

These are the words of Elaine de Kooning, one of the artists whose work will be featured when Project Outreach in Marquette presents "Crosscurrents, U.S.A.," in Olson Library at Northern Michigan University. The exhibition of 38 paintings by 19 contemporary artists opens Wednesday and will remain on public view more than three weeks. Gallery hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. There is no admission charge.

Works included in the show have been borrowed directly from the artists. Some were so enthusiastic in response to the Detroit Institute of Art's plan to mount a representational show for its Outreach program that they lent paintings never before seen publicly.

Each artist receives an honorarium of $100 per painting as compensation for taking his work off the market for the year's tour. This system is practiced in Europe, but it is new to the United States.

Paintings in "Crosscurrents" are for sale, at prices ranging from $750 to $18,000, but purchasers must agree to allow the paintings to remain with the show for the duration of its Outreach schedule in Michigan.

With the paintings are photographs of the artists and their own statements about their work. These indicate that representational art can be interpreted in many ways — from the realism of John Koch, who has loaned two works, to the imagery of Robert Kaupelia, with three paintings in the exhibition.

Outreach is a three-year federally-funded experiment to extend the resources of a great metropolitan museum to geographically distant communities which have no museums of their own. Marquette is the only participating Upper Peninsula city.

'Bonus' Funds For Poor Units Recommended

erage millage to partake of the bonus plan," Zollar said. "Those that are and don't have the SEV will have the opportunity to catch up."

He called the plan the "closest thing to equity you can get under the present system."

Present plans for helping children in educationally deprived areas are "not working," Zollar maintained.

$150 Per Child

He outlined a $22.5 million program set up by the Appropriations Committee which could provide $150 per child to schools where pupils show lower than average results on statewide assessment tests.

The tests, being conducted through an already-funded State Education Department program, will provide "the first adequate basis to start a program for the educationally deprived to bring them up to standard," Zollar said.

He said the funds would be doled out, expectedly on a school-by-school basis, until the total appropriated for the program was gone.

Program Reduction

The Appropriations Committee cut $10 million for a middle cities program, $6 million for remedial reading and $30 million for reduction of student-teacher ratios from the governor's proposal.

Zollar said a leveling off of student population increases—previously expected in 1975—already was showing up and had cut some $20 from finance figures included in Milliken's projections.

Those cuts, combined with additions for various programs, make up the nearly $40 million difference between the two versions of the bill.

Salmon Catches Good In Area

The Whitefish River, Whitefish Bay, Little Bay de Noc and Thompson Bay continue to produce fine catches of coho salmon, according to reports and creel surveys conducted by the Department of Natural Resources and the Daily Press.

The Whitefish River below Bill's Creek is still the hottest fishing spot, although fish biologist Dave Johnson has informed the Daily Press that heavy concentrations of salmon can be found in Whitefish Bay and just below Johnson's rapids in the Whitefish River.

"There is also a heavy concentration of coho in the Whitefish below Haymeadow Creek," Johnson said. He believes the Haymeadow group to be larger than the amount of fish below Bill's Creek.

At Thompson, anglers are having good luck on fish that are actually striking their lures. Silver-colored coho in prime condition are being caught. "Best bet here is a yellow-colored spoon," said one very successful Thompson angler.

Big browns and some steelhead are beginning to show up in the creels of anglers in both areas.

Education Week Begins Sunday

Students, teachers and citizens are sitting in, walking out and demanding more from the schools of the nation, but the crisis they create is healthy, according to the sponsors of American Education Week.

The annual observance begins Sunday and Escanaba Area Schools are joining the observances with a week of activities in the schools.

Conferences between parents and teachers are scheduled Monday and Tuesday in city schools with kindergarten conferences throughout the district planned Wednesday. Thursday conferences are scheduled in townships schools.

Visitation also is planned Wednesday at the High School with parents and citizens invited to stop anytime during the school day to visit classes. Persons visiting the school should go to the office for directions to individual rooms.

An open house at the Junior High is scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday.

The event will begin at 7:30 in the William W. Oliver Auditorium with a program featuring the 7th grade band and an 8th grade home economics demonstration. Classroom visitation is scheduled from 8 to 9 p.m. with a coffee period to follow.

Theme of American Education Week is "Better Education: Your Job."

The observance is sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education. Its purpose is to increase public understanding and support of the schools and to encourage parents to visit schools at least once a year.

Escanaba Area Supt. Luther M. Barrett said that action designed to upgrade the quality of education in America must be preceded by information.

He stressed the need for all citizens to find out how much financial support the schools are receiving and where it is coming from, what amount of money per pupil is spent and how it is spent.

Assembly Line Houses Get OK From 3 Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three labor unions have agreed to build low-cost, prefabricated homes on an assembly line basis under a contract the government says provides a major start in overcoming the nation's housing shortage.

A three-bedroom house with one bath and all utilities would cost well under $10,000 according to a top official of the company that signed a contract with three building-trades unions Thursday to mass produce the structures.

George Romney, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, hailed the contract as a significant start in reaching former President Lyndon B. Johnson's goal of 26 million new housing units in the next decade.

Romney's department Thursday also said another program aimed at both creating new housing and aiding the nation's poor was working.

HUD announced its venture of providing mortgage subsidies to help low-income families afford home ownership has passed the one-year mark with all the earmarks of success.

Some 16,500 families with average annual incomes of $5,600 own homes thanks to the program and the number is expected to triple by next June 30, HUD officials reported.

The pre-fabricated home contract calls for carpenters, plumbers and electrical workers to join in eventually producing 2,500 homes a year for Prestige Structures, Inc., of Charlotte, Mich.

Thursday's agreement marked a reversal in what has been opposition by the unions to mass-produced housing. Increasing popularity of mobile homes is considered one factor in the unions' reversal.

HUD has guaranteed to finance purchases of Prestige Homes, under the agreement.

Vandals Wreck Downstate School

PORT HURON (AP) — Some 500 pupils at Kimball Intermediate School near Port Huron got an unscheduled holiday Friday after vandals broke windows, ransacked desks and left debris throughout the school.

Officials said the vandals apparently entered the school Thursday night through a skylight. There was no official damage estimate. Classes are tentatively scheduled to resume Monday.

Solons Divided Over Upcoming Moratorium

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, although widely divided on the subject of the Vietnam war, is showing surprising unanimity in its reluctance to get involved publicly in next week's peace demonstrations in Washington.

Republican Charles Goodell of New York, one of the most outspoken doves, came close to an endorsement of the march when he called on the administration Friday to grant a permit for a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue.

But Goodell made it clear in a letter to Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and in a news conference that he was not supporting the three days of demonstrations and would not until convinced organizers are making every effort to prevent violence.

Goodell's position makes him virtually the only senator of either party to make any kind of gesture toward the demonstrations.

Many of those who supported the Oct. 15 moratorium have either been critical like Oregon Republican Mark Hatfield and Arkansas Democrat J. W. Fulbright or silent like Democrat George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

In contrast to Goodell, his fellow New York Republican, Jacob Javits, informed leaders of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee that he would not take part in any demonstrations.

Javits gave no reason in a telegram to the leaders. He said he had taken part last month and would "join again when I feel my participation is best for Vietnam peace objective."

A bank told her she had too much education for one job, but she couldn't start at a higher position because she'd have to work her way up from the first post.

By now she's decided that job interviews must be in league with the antifeminists, and that her father could have better used his money training her to be a brick mason.

To paraphrase a famous ad: "To get a good job, you need a good education—but not too much."

Sit-In Controversy Editor Backs Pair, But Co-Workers Don't

SAGINAW (AP) — Editor James P. Brown of the Saginaw News is supporting two reporters who demonstrated in sit-ins at Saginaw County Draft Board offices and then wrote stories about it.

Ask Telegram Bombardment To Back Nixon

HONOLULU (AP) — Western Republican leaders, standing behind President Nixon on Vietnam, want the American people to bombard him with telegrams of support during next week's protest demonstrations.

Cheers rang through the meeting of party officials from 13 western states when resolutions backing the President were read. Then the measures were unanimously adopted by the conference executive committee without debate.

It was the climax of two days of speeches by national and state officials backing Nixon's plan of gradual withdrawal from Vietnam. There was not a word of public criticism from the national committeemen and women and state chairmen, the people who run the party at the grassroots level.

The conference also asked the U.S. Senate to confirm Nixon's appointment of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the U.S. Supreme Court immediately.

And it adopted a resolution urging that private enterprise be given a bigger role in the development of the wide open and unused spaces of the Far West.

Conservationists want more of the western wilderness land closed to any development and kept under strict federal control. But the GOP resolution declared that mining, logging, ranching and recreation all have a place in the federally owned lands. The states, rather than Washington, should control development, the resolution said.

BAG ELK — This father and son combination proved successful during a recent elk hunting trip to Eeely Lake, Montana. George Chailier Sr., of Danforth, left, shot a 450 pound spike horn bull, and his son George Jr., right, gunned down a 450 pound cow. Pesticide In Turkeys Keeps Probers Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government inspectors are making an intensive check of turkeys bound for the Thanksgiving market after finding traces of a powerful pesticide in tens of thousands of the birds.

Agriculture Department officials say they are confident no contaminated turkeys reached the retail markets, and that all turkey products in federally inspected processing plants are being checked.

The investigation began after residue of heptachlor, a long-lived pesticide ranking in toxicity with DDT, was discovered in a Minnesota processing plant Oct. 9. The department spokesman said the plant was using birds supplied by Arkansas Valley Industries, Ltd., headquartered at Little Rock.

Department officials said that of 150,000 birds checked on ranches supplying the Arkansas company, 90,000 were found to have residue traces and the rest were uncontaminated.

Another 150,000 live turkeys on farms supplying AVI are to be checked before they are released for slaughter.

Also being detained for checking in federally inspected processing plants are four million pounds of turkey meat.

Officials indicated the investigation extended to states other than Arkansas and Minnesota, but would not name them or the processors involved.

Food and Drug Administration regulations permit no traces of pesticide residue in meat and poultry products. Turkeys or turkey-products found to be contaminated are condemned.

Heptachlor is a pesticide that is frequently applied to the soil to kill grub worms and other insects.

Mary Jo Inquest Plan Stymied

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The date for the inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne will be set after a Pennsylvania court decides whether to allow exhumation of the girl's body for autopsy.

Judge James A. Boyle, who will preside at the inquest in District Court in Edgartown, consulted Thursday with lawyers for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and others expected to be witnesses.

Boyle later announced he would not set an inquest date until the Pennsylvania court ruling has been made.

A petition for exhumation of the body was filed in the court in Wilkes Barre, Pa., by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis, who ordered the inquest.

United We Stand Plans Steamroll

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas-based United We Stand campaign, urging support of President Nixon's Vietnam policy, is meeting an "overwhelmingly positive" response, a spokesman for its creator, H. Ross Perot, reports.

He said telephone calls from points as distant as Massachusetts and California have jammed lines at the office of United We Stand, Inc.

Full-page advertisements in newspapers this week urged Americans to back the President's efforts to end the war.

Perot, a Dallas computer magnate who paid for the ads, said Friday he did it "for the country" and not for President Nixon personally.

"We have one President and he's the only man who has the authority and the responsibility for the conduct of our foreign affairs," Perot said in an interview.

"The more united we are behind him, the more effective he (the President) is."

The ads reached readers in at least 50 key cities in all 50 states, a spokesman said, and a second ad, urging prayers Sunday for Vietnam prisoners-of-war again will go into 100 papers.

Requests from individuals have come in, and are being granted, to reprint the ad in smaller city newspapers, the spokesman said.

Fishing 'Good' In Spots Says Report Of DNR

Reports of good catches of coho salmon, steelhead, lake trout and brown trout are still being taken at the Department of Natural Resources, according to the weekly report issued from the Newberry office.

Main roads are in good shape. Secondary roads in the west end of the district are fair; those in the eastern "clay country" are poor, officers report.

Grouse hunters report some "pats" being flushed but there is a considerable decline from 1968.

Most fishermen at present are concentrated around areas of good concentrations of steelhead, lake trout and coho.

Coho—Very good runs of coho have been observed in Thompson Creek and Milakoma River, Schoolcraft County; Pt. Paterson and Crowe Rivers, Mackinac County. They are probably off the mouth of many streams along the northern shore of Lake Michigan.

Good numbers of coho are still found in the lower portion of the Carp River and have been reported in many of the smaller streams along the fringe of St. Martins Bay, Lake Huron.

Some good catches of coho are still being made off Pendills and Halfaday Creeks in the Whitefish Bay area of Lake Superior, and an occasional fish is still being taken at the mouth of the Sucker River at Grand Marais and the Two Hearted River north of Newberry.

Steelhead (Rainbow)—Reports of some very nice fish being taken at Thompson Creek, Harrison Aten, Newberry caught a 13 pound rainbow here Nov. 2. Rainbow are also being taken at the Black and Carp Rivers, Mackinac County; Pendills and Halfaday Creeks, Chippewa County; Two Hearted and Blind Sucker Rivers, Luce County.

Lake Trout—Catches remain good for casters and trollers along the beaches at Deer Park, Luce County and at the mouth of Pendills Creek, Chippewa County.

Brown Trout—Some very nice fish are being caught at Thompson and Pendills Creeks. Best baits for the four above mentioned species are silver type lures such as flat fish, tad-poles, rebel, rapola, cleo, and daredevils.

Best catches have been reported in early morning and late afternoon and evening, however some fish are caught throughout the day.

Yellow Perch—When weather permits some fish have been reported from Big Manistique Lake and Emerson Bay of Lake Superior.

A recent fisheries inventory made in the Les Cheneaux area indicated very good populations of northern pike, herring and bullheads. All of which should be considered in supplying an outlet for frustrated fishermen. The pike fishery at present is under-exploited; the herring sport fishery is improving and few if any are fishing for bullheads. The latter are certainly not a common fishery in our northern Great Lakes waters.

Fire Protection Plan Deadline Set

The townships have been granted until Jan. 5, 1970 to decide if they want fire protection from the City of Manistique on a contract basis, city manager Robert Noe said Friday.

Noe said he had been contacted by Thompson Township Supervisor Lawrence Knuth who said the townships, Doyle, Manistique, Hiawatha, Inwood and Thompson) were willing to cooperate in the matter but need additional time.

In a letter dated Oct. 22, Noe advised the townships that fire protection services would be withdrawn unless some financial pay for the services. Increased costs in maintaining the service were cited as the prime factor in the decision, according to Noe's letter.

To continue the service, Noe asked the each township contribute a certain amount each year, based on assessed valuation. Doyle would pay $959; Manistique, $930; Thompson $900; Hiawatha, $1,600; and Inwood, $800.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE

Dear Heloise:
I wonder if it has ever occurred to your readers that clothes hampers can be used for a lot of things besides storing soiled laundry?

Here are just a few ideas I had for putting extra ones to good use:

Storing towels and washcloths, extra bed linens, socks and underwear, toys, things that need mending or that ironing you just aren't ready to tackle yet.

And they come in so many different sizes and colors that you can find one to match most any room in the house.

Heloise Fan

And I'm a fan of yours for giving our readers some more uses for these hampers.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here's an indoor basketball game for children on a rainy day:

Fold a plastic potato sack over a rounded coat hanger. Run string through the air holes to hold the sack on.

Then cut open the bottom end of the bag, turn the hanger hook up and hang it over a doorknob.

All that's needed, then, is a plastic or rubber ball to toss into it.

Edith Stoltie

Dear Heloise:

Over the years, I have always dreaded the job of removing the thin membrane on the outer edge of liver, until I hit on the idea of doing it while the liver is frozen!

Make a small cut and grab it between thumb and knife. It peels away paper thin and also saves much of the liver that is usually cut away with the membrane if it's thawed.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

The doorknob on our bathroom door banged against the wall whenever it was opened.

So I took a cotton-filled powder puff, ripped one side open, put it over the knob and sewed it closed.

No more noise now when anyone gets up at night to use the bathroom.

Mrs. C. Magarell

Letter Of Love

Dear Heloise:

Know something?

You are a pleasant conversation - starter when people who aren't acquainted get together at a luncheon.

Mrs. E. W.

And YOU know something?

You started my day off just right with those kind words!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Don't you just hate to put out all that money for a diaper bag when there is so much more you need for babies?

Try one of the insulated vinyl picnic bags. They come in bright colors and have a zipper top.

I've found they hold as much as the largest diaper bags and can usually be bought for a dollar or less.

Wanda McNew

Dear Heloise:

If your lunch pail won't stay fastened, use those tiny plastic clips from bread or apple bags.

Fasten the bucket as usual, then put the plastic fasteners in the snap loops. It won't come open... honest!

11. Business Opportunities

THIS IS NOT VENDING SPORTSMEN

The nation's largest franchise organization has a limited number of new opportunities for the sports-minded man or woman to get into the field that they enjoy the most.

We need an ambitious individual who would like to reap the rewards of the ever-increasing recreation explosion - a person who is aspiring to earnings well over $1,000 per month.

This is one of the most amazing, but fun businesses you'll ever have an opportunity to look into.

You do need at least $1,647.50 to $3,547.50 cash to start.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

If only I had been born with the ability to reason and all the wisdom great decisions require.

Then I'd ask Daddy to teach me a prayer.

And I'd ask Mommy to read me a Bible story.

And, if nobody offered to take me, I'd walk myself to Sunday School.

But, as things are, I've no more say about my destiny than a missile has. You grown-ups decide how high—or how low—my life shall be aimed! And when to launch me! And where!

And, from what I hear, some of us never get off the ground.

Please . . . SOMEBODY . . . plan my orbit.
